AUTOMATING AND ACCELERATING FINANCIAL AID FOR STUDENTS

ECPI University, a leading career and technical college based in Virginia Beach, Virginia, has distinguished itself by providing programs that serve a wide diversity of students, from traditional students to adult learners and military veterans.

Offering flexible terms, rolling starts, and online programs, the institution was able to go live with financial aid automation at 22 campuses located in Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida, and Texas – in an increasingly complex and growing regulatory environment.

"FINANCIAL AID AUTOMATION IS A WAY TO BE MORE TIMELY WITHOUT COMPROMISING ACCURACY."

Kim Black / Quality Control Specialist
ECPI University

As a result, the institution has transitioned from 100 percent manual processing to 100 percent automated processes for financial aid packaging, resolved over 59,000 exceptions automatically in the seven months following implementation, cut file transfer times by 50 percent, and accelerated turnaround times for delivering financial aid to students.

From June to January, ECPI was able to transmit over 121,000 student financial aid files without any failures. This will result in an average of nearly 3,000 files per year and 200,000 student records being processes automatically.

Through its vision and innovation, ECPI University has created new methodologies and opportunities for students of every kind to achieve their academic and career goals.
